

Magnetic Locket

Award High Achievers Right in the Field

Magnetic lockets are all the rage, and now they can be customized for corporate America! Custom floating charms, stones and window plates are easily added and securely held in with a magnetic closure. Make your locket even more unique by engraving a message on the metal rim or acid etching a company logo right on the glass.

Sales/Recruiting/Training Recognition – Charms can be designed for sales goals with particular dollar values imprinted on them; recruiting goals can be recognized with a number, a colored stone or special symbol; completed training can be recognized with a diploma or mortarboard charm, a charm with the certification symbol listed or whatever custom charm design you can imagine.

Unique On-The-Spot Recognition – Give employees that pat on the back they deserve right on the spot with special stones, or unique charms to recognize positive comment card reviews, exemplary attendance, or going above and beyond in any capacity. Employees will love showing off all the charms they have earned to coworkers and friends (making others want to earn these rewards themselves).

Wellness Programs – Employees can be awarded unique floating charms for each wellness goal met, such as a hiking boot or sneaker for so many miles walked, a heart charm for getting their annual physical, a miniature scale charm for weight loss, etc.
