Custom Trip Charms Make the Award Trip More Memorable

It may be hot outside now, but winter award trip season is coming soon. Companies are planning trips to exotic locales for their top sales performers and for their annual conference destinations. Whether you are overseeing the entire trip, or just trying to get your foot in the door with a new client, custom trip charms are a great idea. Don't wait until it is too late to get started.

These small but important commemoratives extend the sense of friendship and achievement well after the participants have returned home. These exclusive mementos are popular for the prestige they convey and their affordable price.

In addition, the charm design can be made into lapel pins or cuff links, or put onto a money clip or key tag. Trip charms and other jewelry counterparts are a discreet way top sales trip winners can show their standing to co-workers and customers alike.

Dion makes the trip charm truly custom! We include unique images of the venue (particular hotel, cruise ship, local landmarks, etc.), as well as include trip specifics on the back. Challenge the Dion Design Team to come up with a truly unique trip charm design for your client.

We have created an end-user friendly non-branded trifold flyer highlighting the benefits of these charms as well as the many variations and gift sets they can come in. Click below for a PDF, or if you would like hard copies sent to you, email Ann Condon at annc@eadion.com.
